“ I was deeply saddened to see the obituary for Cyndi Hester in Monday's paper. I had to read it twice before I believed it. I worked across the hall from Cyndi at Epes Elementary School in Newport News many years ago. She was a dedicated, hard-working teacher who would always find time for fun and laughter. I had the good fortune of being Brandi's fourth grade teacher and got to know Cyndi as a parent. To all of you in her family, I am truly sorry for your loss. May you find peace in her memories and in the love she shared with you.

“ I don't have a lot of memories of Cyndi nor did I know her well, but I would like to share that the times I have spent with her, she was very welcoming and delightful to be around. A particular memory that has stood out to me over the years is when I received homemade cookies from Cyndi during a deployment. These were some of the most amazing cookies I and some of the other Cavalry soldiers have ever eaten. It made all of our day. Her gift to all of us that day was much appreciated, and her kindness showed just how much of a thoughtful person she was. My condolences to all of her family.

“ Pat, Brandi and Bree I'm so sorry for you loss and don't know were to start telling you how much Cindi meant to all the lives that she touched. I know for myself that God couldn't have giving me a better sister. All the memories of staying up late at night watching horror shows or just playing silly games. She taught me so much about life and was away there to listen when I had problem and needed help. I wish I could have seen more and heard more of her laughter over the years. I know that she love you Pat , Brandi and Bree and all of the grand kids. I want to thank the family for bring her home to let her rest beside her mother. I will miss you so much sis but I know I'll see you again in Heaven. Love always your baby brother Chris

“ For Mom from Your Youngest Daughter

It is not always clear of why God calls people home so suddenly, but what I do know - is that He has called you home to be with Him in his eternal glory. I know we will meet again in the clouds above, but until then our love remains unbroken, for your memory is deep within my heart and soul. In this life, I know we had our differences, and at times I caused you pain, but I want you to know mom, my love still remained. Your love touched my heart so many times as a child, it continued in my teenage and adult years. As a mother to my children I have learned heartache and know I must have hurt you, but your love remained, as did mine for you. I will mourn the missed opportunities we could have had but will always cherish the times we had together in the past - love, laughter and even the pain - for your forgiveness knew no bounds. Of all the fond memories and special times you gave me, your forgiveness was the most precious to me. I will forever cherish those moments with you and although we are now separated by time and infinity, I know we will meet again. In His Kingdom, love conquers all, even the disease you fought so hard to overcome. Although it still hurts to let go, even when we are facing death, you held on, as we too, did not want you to go. Your memory will be forever in my heart and mind.

“ I am so saddened to hear of Cyndi's passing. I worked with her at New Kent Elementary and thought the world of her as a person and a teacher. She was always so helpful and fun! I am so sorry that her retirement was short-lived. She deserved so much more time with her family. My heartfelt condolences go out to all those who can't imagine life without her. May she Rest In Peace and in the memories of all those who love her. - Debbie Donvito

“ I am so saddened to hear we have lost such a beautiful and loving soul. I also had the privilege of working with Cindi Hester at NKES and GWES. She was also my niece's 4th grade teacher. I was raising my niece because her parents were not able to care for her. Cindi took her under her wing and nurtured and loved her. She was much more than just a teacher to her students. She listened to them and loved them unconditionally. My sincere sympathies go out to her family, whom she spoke about all the time, and loved dearly. This Earth has lost a beautiful soul, but we have gained a true angel in heaven.

“ I had the privilege of working with Cyndi Hester at New Kent Elementary school. She could always be counted on when you needed help, had a question....she helped me, many times, with my lack of technology. Her sense of humor was a gift. I still can't look at a milk carton without thinking of her collecting them for her children, so each child could have the joy of making a gingerbread house. My heart is heavy and breaking for her family...who she loved dearly. The world is a sadder place without her. I'm praying for love and strength to carry her family through this loss. She will always be with you....let her love sustain you.
