“ To the Brown Children: We will never forget the love, caring, and encouraging words your mother gave to our mother and brother, Fannie and "Bruser". Times our uncle wouldn't eat; your dear mother coerced and lighthearted bullied him until he did. And when he passed on, she didn't forget our mother. She and James constantly visited, bringing small gifts or food. Her kindness will never be forgotten by us, and although she was not our own mother, we grieve with you in spirit as if she was. How pleased Our Dear Lord must be of her. We will definitely miss her.

“ To the family of Rev. Arnette Brown, please know that we are here for you in body, prayers and spirit. We know the sadness and void you are experiencing at this time as we have also experienced these same feelings. I personally will always remember the long telephone conversations "Mother Jefferson" and I would have. We talked about so many things, she imparted her wisdom to me on many occasions. We would always end our conversations with words of affection such as "don't do nothing I would not do, if I do I ain't going to tell you ". Don't take no wooden nickels, because you can't spend them".or just a simple "love you". I will miss her and that beautiful smile. George and I are here for you today and all the tomorrows.
