

Ashley Leanne Dawn Marshall

September 9, 1993 - May 31, 2024

Ashley Leanne Dawn Marshall was born September 09, 1993, and was called home May 31, 2024. She was 30 years old.

Ashley's worked in customer service her whole adult life in the town of West Point. Ashley enjoyed fishing and spending time with her nieces and nephews. She loved listening to music especially country music that her father used to listen to. Ashley loved the mystical things rainbows and unicorns and her favorite color was pink. Ashley was extremely close with her siblings, and Ashley's biggest fan was her mama. She was able to keep your secret close to her heart and when she believed in something even if it was by herself she stood her ground to the very end. Ashley was never judgmental, and she just loved loving the person that you are, the good, bad, and ugly.

Ashley was the kindest person you'll ever meet she had the biggest heart, and always helping others before herself. Ashley was able to make a personal connection with young and old alike. Ashley had a child like wonder about her and it would always bring the kid out of you. It is true what they say the good die young, and Ashley was as pure as they come. “ Ashley! God I just remember us putting our beds together on Christmas Eve and we would try so hard to catch Santa Claus, we would do it every time and be so excited and always think we would catch him the next time! Nothing is gonna be the same without you. Every memory I have breaks my heart. I never imagined a life without you being there and now that you're gone it feels so empty. We laughed we cried and we fought and we made up and we lifted each other up. I could always count on you to have my back and when my world felt lonely and I felt like everybody was against me I knew that I would always have you, to root for me to cheer for me to love me. To fight for me. Ashley a life without you is a life i don't want to live. It feels so guilty to be here and you not be. I wish I could go back and we could do things so differently. I know you gotta be with Jesus now, but god knows I wanted you here with all of us.

“ Ashley was my baby sister she was the youngest of us all and she had the biggest heart. Since she left I've been beating myself up about what ifs what I could have done. And it wasn't until I talked to my other sister and she said April you were Ashley's safe place whenever she needed to get away from it all she came here. She was at peace here her and Destiny were inseparable. We never did anything fancy just sit around listen to music and cry our eyes out or laugh until it hurt. Disney movies was our thing we would find a cartoon to watch and laugh and sing along. She always told me she couldn't bear the thought of any of us not being here. She loved her family so much. And when I say family I don't mean just blood because there are countless people that she considered family. Her laugh was so contagious I don't know anyone that could resist joining in when you heard her laughing. I love you Ashley and I'll miss you until the day we're reunited. You rest easy now baby girl. Take a break we got it from here sweet stuff.
Love you
April

“ We had so many memories together. We've cried in each other's arms. We've laughed until our vision went blurry. And she knew how to laugh. Once she started you couldn't help but to join in. When we hung out it didn't have to be anything exciting. Some of our best times were just hanging out in town at the Pizza Hut or in her room watching something while talking and joking. She loved her family so much. If anyone dared say anything about them they would have to feel her wrath. She would do anything for her family they were her world. She also loved her fiancé Nathan. She would always talk about how he was her half. She always felt whole with him near. She also had a huge heart for animals. If we were going down the road she would want to stop almost immediately to help an animal find its home or get help. She told me a few times if had the ability she would have wanted to work with animals like be a veterinarian. She would have been a great one too. I remember one of our many sleepovers we were watching Spirit(the animated horse movie) and she was immersed in it. She would yell at the TV for the horse to "run!" almost dropping her mac and cheese. She also loved the movie Mulan. We would sing along to all the songs. Off key of course, but atleast we had fun. Whenever she was upset her favorite song to listen to was "Hate Me" by Blue October. We would cry together and scream all the words. We have so many memories together and I will forever cherish them. I miss her so much. My heart aches. She was my friend.

“ Ashley was the bestest sister ever. She would always have my back, and always listen to me ramble. We would sit in the car for hours taking turns playing songs we wanted the other to hear. You can learn a lot about a person from the songs they want you to hear, and what I learned about Ashley was that she loved all things revolved around L O V E
