“ To Noel, Vickie and the rest of the Lockhart/Larson families,

God Bless you all as you go through the valley. God has promised not to leave us there and certainly not without a comforter. Sue was a beautiful lady and I'm so glad that I had a chance to know her. She had a quiet, sweet spirit and it is my pleasure to have shared just a small part of her world. She will be missed I am sure. Please take consolation in the truth that the grave has no victory in this passing. And God is still on the throne. Eva Agee “ Sue is my first cousin and closer to my age than her other five sisters. Sue's mother, Roma, was my mom's sister. I remember how much I loved going to my Aunt Roma's with my mother and brothers. We would always have so much fun, but it seemed as if we would spend most of our time trying to decide what to play. We always came up with something fun though like kick the can, Red Rover, or maybe dodge ball on the dirt road that sat up from their house, or just simply sitting and talking and laughing as we got into our teenage years. About the time we got into playing really good or got into our girl talk , it was always time to go home. We were always wanting to stay just a little bit longer no matter how long we had been there. I remember Sue and Carol, especially, as being tomboyish girls. Those girls could climb trees better than any boy I'd ever seen...lol. I remember Aunt Roma could make the best ever old-fashion chocolate fudge. The whole family was special to me and I loved all of them...from Don down to Jenny. They had such sweet dispositions about them and always seemed the same no matter how long between our get-togethers. I treasure those memories more than I could ever put in words. With much love, Linda.
