“ I met Brock on my current project. We worked great together. He had great knowledge of construction and we made a good project team. I’m still in shock that this happened and will miss my co-worker and friend. The project will not be the same without him. RIP, friend.

“ I only knew Brock for the last several years. In the beginning we were both leaning on each other to pick up the pieces of what had been a very rough project. Coming out of that project Brock was my go to. If I wanted a level head, thoroughness, common sense, and fortitude, I'd call Brock. He and I would talk and talk about the future, his potential, projects we'd want to work on. I trusted Brock. I'll miss him as a construction colleague and a friend. My condolences and prayers for his friends and family.

“ Just fellas being fellas when we got together!!!! Damn bro WHY? Too many good and crazy times with you to name em all, so I'm gonna put my last memories of you as my favorite... I'll remember how happy you were taking us fishing on your boat this past weekend, it was what you loved to do. I dont think I've ever seen anyone as excited or looking forward to cutting the grass that evening or as happy riding around on that mower, what a nerd haha, loved every minute helping you... You're gonna be missed man this is gonna hurt for a minute but I know you're in good hands. The birds and the B's huh? The Saga continues 🙌💙 my brother!!!

You know who

“ Well Being Brock's uncle I can honestly say there is not 1 2 3 or four good memories I have of him he was always a barrel of laughs and great to be around I can remember when he was a little tiny guy and I would take him swimming at the apartments the little guy with all the breathing problems he had it never slowed him down. He would swim for hours we had to make him go in and when he would stay at the house and all of us would play hiding go seek it was his favorite game at the time. He always wanted to hide with his uncle Abu, he couldn't say Allen so I was given the name Abu which stuck with me through all my nieces and nephews of Which he was the one and only. I still have friends that call me Abu. When he was bat boy for my baseball teams after the first practice my name changed to Abu I took that name dear to my heart my bubba had some hard times as a little one and you would have never known it he was a great kid a wonderful man a good father, and name giver I'm not so sure ha ha. I loved being his Abu and will for ever I love you bubba I'm sure your Grandma and Papa are already with you they both loved you so much rest in peace Bubba your Abu loves you.
