“ I read with disbelief about the passing of my dear college friend, Chuck McHose. We attended Franklin & Marshall college together, and Chuck graduated in 1970, one year before I did. After his graduation, Chuck attended the Lancaster Theological Seminary, and we remained friends, while he studied for his life’s work. After I graduated from college and went to law school, Chuck and I, unfortunately, lost touch with one another; but over the years I had always hoped that we would have an opportunity to see each other again. Chuck was incredibly smart and compassionate, had a fantastic sense of humor, and took the time to teach me how to play the guitar (which was my an easy task!). We spent many hours “jamming” together, and I even remember some of the songs that he wrote and played. My memories of Chuck are very strong, and I am deeply saddened to hear of his untimely death. To Chuck’s family and friends, I can only say that he will be missed by me, an old college buddy, and I can attest to the fact that all of the good things that are being said about him now have been true throughout his life.

Rest In Peace, my friend... you have not been forgotten.... Richard E. Brook

“ I never met you...but I am forever grateful for what you meant to my son Kenny. You will never know the comfort I took in knowing how you cared for him. In the 8 years he resided in your home you became a father figure to him. You sat by his bedside when he was diagnosed with diabetes and I know prayed countless hours over him and my grandbabies. You showed him Gods' love and lived an exemplary life of faith. You showed my son unconditional love. My son knows Gods' love and grace because of you. It is with a sadden heart that they had to move after your passing, but I know you are forever looking over him..he will love and cherish your memory forever..I believe he will walk in faith and honor all the blessings you bestowed to him and our family. My condolences to the family. He wa trully an honorable man.

“ I met Chuck McHose while he was directing "The Joy Singers" at JCC Rec Center. He radiated the spirit of joy and love of music and love of people. We had a grand time singing at local retirement residences and churches around Williamsburg. He also shared with me his hope of returning to the full time pastorate, and announced that he had been called to a church in Shackelfords, VA. We missed him as our song director but wished him well at his new post. He had a big heart and was always friendly and encouraging when we met out in the community. I shall miss his presence among us but take comfort that he now enjoys the nearer presence of his beloved Lord. To his family, former parishioners, and friends, I condole with you but thank God for Chuck,s life and witness to a weary world to which he brought assurance of God's redeeming Grace through Jesus Christ, Our Lord. Amen
