“ Ron, My deepest sympathy to you and your girls. One of my regrets in life is that I lost touch with Chris. I just lost Pat to cancer in April. We have three daughters. I would like your girls to know what a wonderful person and friend Chris was to me. We were very close as roommates in College. We shared so many laughs and stories together. She is forever in my heart. I have beautiful pictures of you two in our wedding party and I was so happy to be her Maid-of-honor for your wedding. I'm glad you had many happy years together as Pat and I did too. Please know that I am holding you and your family in my prayers. May your memories of Chris bring you comfort and peaceful healing. So sorry for your loss. Angie Kaluzynski

“ Ron and family - My condolences on the loss of your wife/mom. Ron, I created a couple of posts on our Dominican College Facebook page about Chris's passing. I hope you will check it out, as there are many comments below those posts (especially the first post) by DC alums recalling what fun Chris was in college and sharing of happy memories! Gone much too soon. May Chris rest in peace.

“ My mom was the best. Fun, funny, spontaneous, kind, loving, generous. I am so blessed to have had her as a mother and a grandmother to my daughters. I remember how I got sick in college and she drove all the way there late at night to get me and take me to a hotel so that she could take care of me. That's the way she was, always taking care of everyone before herself. I love her more than I can ever express in words and I will miss her always. Her grandchildren and I will never forget her.

“ My beautiful sister in law will hold a place in my heart forever. Our families shared so many fun times together which we will always treasure. Chris was so full of life. She loved to talk, laugh, travel and buy sandals and purses. She loved going barefooted and loved the ocean, beaches and pool. She had a big heart that was so full of love and pride for her family. She treasured family and friends. We will miss her so much but we will remember her as a very special person in our lives.
