“ My heart aches for you, Joey and Patrick... Lisa was truly a friend to all and my granddaughter, Julia, age 6, adored her. Visits to Wild Birds always included Lisa popping up behind a display with a large bird puppet, calling Julia's name. Lisa shared Internet sites for introducing children to nature and over time, she became a very, very wonderful friend.

I know a happy life would have included the use of her hands and another stint working at Wild Birds in Williamsburg... but I know how terribly she will be missed because I, who only knew her for 10 minutes at a time, will miss her terribly.

Joey and Patrick... I will keep you in my prayers.

Lisa, I miss you incredibly....I can't find the words to replicate what my heart feels. Heaven is a happier place with you in it. I miss you.*

So sad to hear of Lisa's passing. I only knew her through our years-long interactions at Wild Birds, but that was more than enough to know that our world has lost a bright soul way too early. My condolences to all her friends and family.

Lisa was one of my closest friends when we worked at Heilig Meyers, often side by side. She was my Extra Billy's buddy, she got me hooked on The Young and the Restless, and she broadened my vocabulary. :) I remember a lot of conversations about wedding planning in 1989-90.

Was shocked when I heard of her passing. Always looked forward to seeing Lisa whenever I went into the bird store. Saw her last time I was there. Going there won't be the same without her. Will miss her lots. She wore her years well. So sad.
