“ The good in life is what comes to mind when I think of Eric...the love of family, his devotion to them all and the many friends that he made along the way... good banjo picking music, happy family occasions, eating a big ole mess of crabs, his abilities with computers...a John Deere lawn tractor....Jack and Jill, his kitties that he adored...just the simple things that matter most in life! If we could all have the kind and gentle, loving heart that Eric had, what an amazing place this world would be! Rest well, Eric!
