

Glen Wayne Loving

February 28, 1974 - August 2, 2020

Sergeant First Class Glen Loving, beloved son and loving father, was called home to the Lord on August 2, 2020, where he was reunited with his son Andrew and daughter Anna.

Aside from his family, Glen's greatest devotion was to the military. After joining the Virginia Army National Guard, he served in the US Army where he received numerous medals, campaign ribbons, and awards before retiring after 21 years of honorable service.

Glen is survived by his daughters; Abigail, Audrey, and Ava (and their mother, Renee), his mother; Reta Douglas (Joe), sisters; Kim Chambers and Stephanie Adkins (Mike), nieces; Ronnae and Ruth, great-niece; JaZiyah Ramey, his fiancé; Angel Collier, numerous aunts, uncles, cousins, and an extensive military family.

A funeral service will be held at Arlington National Cemetery at a later date. A walk through visitation will be held at the funeral home from 1PM to 6PM Saturday, August 15, 2020.

“ The thought just popped up in my head about when we used to go to Shanghai Express on Laburnam. We LOVED that place!! Asking for a box for chicken bone leftovers for somebody's mama. Oh how i miss you my friend! ! wanted to call you up like we would do, and how we reminisced about fun old times, but I can't and I guess this is my outlet. 💖💙💖

“ Day 25. I journal each day to help me walk through this process of you being gone. Each day, it's never easier, but I guess I can see the progress in my bereavement. Today, I thought about the time that I said I was going to start a Pearl Jam cover band. I remember the look on your face, your nostrils flared, your eyes got wide and you grinned bigger. I said, "what can you play?" I can't write everything that you said, but "Deez" and "& you know I cant play no da## instrument" was part of it. You were always so witty and funny enough to do stand up. I just miss you and thought I'd post that memory that made me smile.

“Glen, you will be sorely missed by everyone. Due to our career paths we did not see each other all of the time, and we didn't even spend more than a week or two together on a multitude of TDY efforts. However, when I did work with you I walked away more enlightened because of your professionalism, knowledge, and tact. Just knowing Glen has been a blessing in my life, and I can tell that many others were blessed by his presence as well. Never once did you look down on anyone, and you always gave everyone the benefit of doubt; something we can all learn from. Peace be to you my friend, and I look forward to working with you again someday.

“ It's really killing me to write this.

The call I received from my wife her telling me that my brotha that I'd converse with 2day prior had died. Still seems like a dream. Me and Glen had known each other 20+ years... we served 20years together in the Army. He wasn't only my battle, we didn't consider each other just friends, we considered each other brothers. Once he retired we never lost contact. I was station at Ft Rucker, Alabama and God blessed him with a government job with TECOM at Ft Rucker exactly where I was working. Never a dull moment with him. Then he gets a job in Croatia and I PCS to Ft Bliss, Texas. Even though we were in two different countries, we still stayed in contact with one another. He came back to the states and God blessed him with a job here in Huntsville, Al. During my time at Ft Bliss I got deployed to Afghanistan and we were still in contact with one another. Glen was literally my brotha. Him and Angel were part of a very special day of mine on May 28, 2016. That smile on his face is how I remember him.. I'm not only hurt but my wife is too. The smile on Glen face is what we always seen, seriously.

Brotha back in June you and Angel invited us over for dinner. Wife had gotten a second chance to taste your food which she loved. That's one of the things you use to brag about, how you can cook, grill, and smoke food... lol which you could.

We would converse with each other 3-4 a week and the last phone call I received from you was on July 31st and you were in great spirit, excited about starting your new job overseas, you talked about your girls, we joked around, laughed, etc.... I didn't notice anything different about you and I keep blaming myself going over and over the whole converse we had to see what I missed. This past week you didn't call me and I was about to dial your number and realized you wouldn't pick up, this week I won't hear from you, nor the week after, etc.... the phone calls may have ended but our memories together will last forever, you'll never be forgotten brotha

My thoughts, love, and prayers are with your daughters, mom,

*sisters, Angel, etc....
I promise you brotha whatever they need I got them.*

We love you brotha!!!!

Till we meet again 🥺

“ I didn't know Glenn til we all went to Croatia together. Michael and I spent a lot of time with Glen during that time. His apartment was across the courtyard from us. I could look up at his building and see him standing on that balcony. He was up on one of the top floors. Exceptional view. My heart hurts over this. Glen was a fun, loving and caring guy. He loved his girls. We spent many afternoons with him telling us about them and showing us pictures. They where his world. He made me laugh with his antics and introduced Michael and I to different cuisine. He will be missed terribly and remembered fondly. Prayers for to family for healing and peace.

“ One of the best memories with Glen was when we were on a training mission in Kuwait and saw a camel herding camp and decided to pay it a visit. They received us and Glen and I sat in the tent having tea and spiced flat bread for about an hour or so in the middle of this camel herd. This pic was taken of us by one of the other soldiers as we left to go meet the camel herders. 😭 . We shared some fun times and sad time serving together. Our lives went in separate paths but you'll always be my brother in green. Until we meet again in Fiddlers Green, be ready with that full canteen for we'll share drinks of life and no word will be mean. Rest easy Loving.

“ My precious fiance. Oh how my heart breaks for the loss of you!! All of the plans, the 5 beautiful years I had you to love... There are absolutely no words to express my intense grief. I have begged God to bring you back, to ease my pain, to settle my heart. I will forever be in your debt for showing me the meaning of true love. I will never love again and will go to my grave yearning for you. I hope we are reunited soon and I can hold you once more and hear your heartbeat that always soothed my soul. You are constantly in my thoughts and the words I love you aren't intense enough to express the depth of my feelings for you, but it's all I have..I pray for one more day with you, just one more day 💔

“Glen seeing this notice is surreal. My heart shattered in pieces when I got the call. You were my best friend from childhood and into our adult lives raising our kids. We've shared decades of laughter, heartbreaks, successes and joyful events. I don't know that I will ever laugh again; the way that we did together. You had the attention of everyone in the room with your sense of humor and kept us in stitches. No matter what the situation, you always made light of it. These last several days have been a blur and a realization that this is not some terrible dream. In reflection I've gone from laughing at goofy things that you would say or do, to bawling my eyes out. Thinking of the first time that we met with your crew on bikes on CC road. Ricky always saying, "he was my best friend and then you stole him!" ha. The burn outs and blowing up Adam's transmission. Our accident in the ice that night and how you were still cracking on my driving skills. The lightning bug challenge. The MCV run. 3rd street diner. Shanghi express. Just hanging at mamas. Then you joined the Army. I admired you in so many ways!! You grew up, you found your place in the world. You served with honor. The calls to me from across the pond where you were so brave!! I was so proud of you!

You found love, married Renee and I saw an amazing new side of you!! I was so excited for this new part of your journey! You had three beautiful girls that made your eyes light up when you talked about them. Abby, Audrey and Ava beautiful girls that look just like you both. My heart aches thinking of them growing up without you. I will miss our phone calls and bantering. My family and I will miss your visits. They loved listening to our stories that we would reminisce over. I don't think that you ever knew how much you were loved by us all. I know that we told each other many times, but I don't think it was said enough. Until we meet again, I love you very much and will forever cherish our life long memories that we have shared together.

Love your friend and sister,

I am so heartbroken and have been crying since we received this news. And now I am crying again! He was our childhood - so many memories include him. I am so thankful that I was able to keep up with him throughout the years through your friendship. I loved when you would call with so much excitement that Glen and the girls are in town - are you free? I loved seeing him and loved seeing him as a dad. The girls gave him so much purpose. I loved hearing the old stories yall would tell and how yall cracked on each other like two 15 year old kids. Yall had a special bond that is rare - many don't get to experience a relationship like that. I know he left this earth with a piece of your heart. Know he loved you and knew you were a friend he could always count on. I will forever love him, miss his vibrant personality, his ridiculously silly sense of humor, and that big beautiful bright smile and heart of his. Praying he now has peace, that your heart will heal and that his girls will know just how much he loved them..
