“ So sorry for your loss, Randy and Selena. May she fly now with wings of eagles. Helen and I grew up a block apart and she was closest to my age of the cousins so we hung out together as kids. What a mischief-maker. She enjoyed soaking my Thanksgiving plate in cranberry juice, knowing how much I disliked it. And that was just for starters. She is gone now and it hits me hard, but she is fondly remembered.

I am Diane's sister but one year older than Helen. We were close as children and teenagers but eventually traveled separate paths. I fondly remember our huge family gatherings at Grandma Stockman's, especially on Christmas Eve. We also worked together at the Dairy Queen which her parents owned. I remember us sneaking into Suzy's room to listen to her 45 rpm records when Suzy wasn't home! We loved rock and roll music but didn't have any money to buy records! God bless her memory and comfort you, her family, as you grieve her passing.
