“ Herold had a "child like faith" and his faith was great because he exercised it every minute of his life. He was sometimes dismayed when other Christians or even church leaders did not show or share the faith he did.

In his work, he knew every trick in the book and even some that weren't in the book, as far as tree work was concerned.

I've known him all my life and it was always like an old time reunion when we got together.

He had a big and tender heart and helped a lot of people that needed it along the way.

Still witnessing about his saviour, even on the last day of his life.

"Welcome Home, thy good and faithful servant ". We that are left here on earth will be thinking of you every day and thanking God for the privilege of knowing you.

I will always remember you as "Meathead". This is how you were introduced to me a number of years ago. I can count on 1 hand the number of times you were around without a smile. Always joking and laughing while working. My Pop is there with you and two goofballs are laughing and joking again. Rest easy, my friend. No more pain.
