In Loving Memory of Janice White Rudolph

With profound sadness and immense love, we announce the passing of our beloved Janice White Rudolph, whose loving and compassionate spirit touched everyone she met. Since 1976, she stood by the side of her devoted husband, Fred L. Rudolph, and poured her heart into raising their daughters, Courtney Angélic and Brittany Nicole.

Janice was the heart and soul of her family, a cherished grandmother to three beautiful grandchildren: Anthony James, Noelle Anastasia, and Aiden Amir Taylor. She shared a special bond with her sisters, Andrea Lee Elliott and Dianne Dunn-Bowie, and her brothers, James Wesley and Ronald White. Her warmth and kindness extended to countless nieces and nephews across the globe, creating a legacy of love that will endure.

Despite the many external challenges she faced, Janice's unwavering love and compassion for her family never faltered. Her resilience, grace, and warmth will forever be etched in the hearts of those who knew and loved her. Janice will be deeply missed and eternally remembered, a guiding light of love and strength for all who were blessed to know her.

“I loved my aunt so much. I have many memories of her and the family coming to New Orleans when I was a young man. The first thing she would want was her coffee, and to this day I don't know a single person in the world who loved coffee like her. She always shared her wisdom and wittiness with my sister and me. She will truly be missed!”

“When my mother died Pearlline Janice's big sister, we shared a bond that only God made possible. My aunt had a piece of me that reminded her of her big sister and my aunt had remnants of my mother, so over the years we found comfort in each other. There are so many countless lessons I learned from my aunt Janice that I can actually write a book about it, but I'll keep my reflections brief. My greatest lesson from her was to watch her continue to smile and love in spite of her pain. She was resilient, funny, loving, stern, stubborn, and amazing. I have so many precious memories of our conversations although we lived miles away. She will be missed and I'm looking forward to seeing her on the outside.

“Janice spent practically every day of her youth at our house. Even though she lived next door, she enjoyed being at our house. Janice was a permanent fixture. We woke up to her in the morning and most times, she did not want to leave at night. Janice was our unofficial sister. We have so many unforgettable and treasured memories of her. She will be missed by all of us.

“ Through out the years, J always spoke of and demonstrated her love for family and b/c love is a feeling, it will forever be felt. Rudy, Court, Britt, Noelle and Aidan, remember that her wishes for you were to always have the road come up to meet you, the wind at your backs and the warm sun upon your faces. Love T Dee

We called each other "T" during our many telephone conversations. She expressed love for others in spite of all the hurts she experienced in her life. "T" was a firm believer in our SAVIOR (YES, A FIRM BELIEVER!). She often said she would step out of " God's circle" and let HIM handle unbearable situations. She was very wise and always interested in the welfare of others. She loved very much her husband Rudy, their daughters, Courtney and Brittany and their adorable grand children - Anthony, Noelle, and Aiden. Of course, T had to have her New Orleans Red Beans and "Big Shot" soda pops that she enjoyed so much! "T", you will always be missed. "t" Jeanie

“ Ms. Janice was a tough cookie! I could always count on her to always give it to me straight with no bells, no whistles, no chaser! To the family, I am praying for strength and comfort during this time. To have known her was to absolutely love her for sure. She will forever hold a special place in my heart. With our deepest sympathy and love, The McLaurin family.
