“ I have known Jeremiah for a very very long time, around 18 years. I knew him when the world seemed carefree and wild to a bunch of crazy kids in Tennessee. I remember his big smile and heart, that long hair and a spirit that was so bright, no one could outshine. He gave the best hugs and had a way of seeing the world for what it was and always being there to help you though a problem and talk it out. We stayed in touch with each other through the years and will miss him greatly. My heart is heavy and my eyes are with tears. He talked of his brothers that meant to world to him who he rode with. Those rides where he felt the most free...rain beating down on his face and riding so fast that every care in his world just melted away. He also talked of his wife and two boys that he loved with his entire being. I feel like this isn't real, all a bad dream that I cant wake up from. Devastation is an understatement. I miss his stories of Germany he told me so long ago as we all stared at the stars laying on top of my car. R.I.P Bullfrog...I love you...we all do.
