“ I'm just being honest my dad was a selfish man but we loved him. I think he didn't know how to show love and support to his children, even though his mother loved and cherished him. He lived his life as he had no children, every now and again he could act like he really care for us but that was all we got of him. I should have showed him more love but it was hard to. I regret alot of things, but in my heart I feel I tried to love him the best I could without receiving his love back. Sometimes I feel my brothers are the same way, and I love them more than they know. Maybe I'm just sharing this to help heal my pain for my father that wasn't a great father and my brothers that are alot like him. I also have alot of my father in me too but try real hard to be different and more caring, Its a hard road. I miss you dad so much I miss seeing you walk among the fields and yard and cutting the grass. It's hard sometimes thats why its good for me to write and share, even though no one will probably ever stumble across this memory. Be at Peace dear dad
