

Jordan Miles Carr

November 3, 2010 - July 5, 2023

Jordan Miles Carr, 12, of Chesterfield, VA, went home to be with his Lord and Savior, unexpectedly on Wednesday July 5, 2023.

Jordan was a bright young kid who loved people. He was shy at times, but his big heart brought him out of his shell to help others with a smile, laugh, hand or prayer. At an early age, Jordan accepted Christ into his life and made it a point to spread Jesus' love through him. When Jordan was a young fellow, he would often lift his hands in prayer and praise for anyone who needed it, especially his mother.

Jordan learned about the importance of family and friends. If you were his family, he loved you unconditionally. If you were his friend, he loved you like family. His love for people truly made him an empath. This gave Jordan great joy and sorrow because he truly took on the weight of others in an effort to ease their pain. It was the true lifestyle of empathy, that made Jordan loved by all.

Jordan had a sense of humor that would have you laughing for days. He would often lighten a serious situation with a joke, even if it were at his expense. The nature of a comedian came easily to Jordan. He constantly tried different accents and voices to either recite a TikTok video, or give voice to inanimate objects.

Just like any other preteen, Jordan had his own sense of fashion and style. He went from having his mother iron his t-shirts so everything fell just right, to gaining an eclectic taste in his attire. Jordan would wear different combinations that didn't seem to work at first glance but exuded effortless style. His creative mind led him to designing and making his own clothes. He also didn't mind letting his mother know when her outfit needed "some work!"

Jordan found a love for Cosplay and the idea that you could be anyone you wanted, and own it. His costume designs were so detailed and intricate, that you couldn't believe it's something he just threw together. Jordan would take cardboard, tape, markers, tulle, glue, paper, yarn, foil, saran wrap, or anything he could get his hands on and come out with a piece of art worthy to be on display, or on the runway.

Jordan was a perfectionist and it showed in his artwork. He would spend hours on a project and if it wasn't to his liking...in the trash it went. There could be one thing off in his eyes, and it would be better served as scratch paper. His use of different mediums allowed his mind to expand across the horizon and bring his art to life.

Jordan also had a love for Star Wars. The fascinating sets and costumes lit a fire in his creativity. He had countless lightsabers and was still begging for more. His baby Grogu/Yoda collection were his babies that took on a life of their own and travelled wherever he went. Jordan couldn't choose between the light or dark side, because he empathized with everyone and understood their background. The force was something Jordan felt and looked to use for good. He was able to meet one of his favorite characters from Star Wars: Clone Wars, Ahsoka Tano, at a recent Comicon/Cosplay event. It just so happened Jordan was actually wearing his Ahsoka Tano costume that he made and stole the heart of the actress.

When he wasn't working on a project, Jordan loved being a kid and spending time with family and friends. He enjoyed going roller skating and to the movies with his "Bestays." They would spend time together playing, gossiping, watching videos and solving the world's problems through deep conversation. He loved his cousins and thought of them as siblings. They were each other's number one fan base and would be overjoyed when they could spend time together. He also enjoyed watching his favorite shows, Teen Titans Go, Big City Greens, Gravity Falls, Steven Universe, The Masked Singer, and of course Star Wars: Clone Wars and Star Wars: Rebels.

Jordan found out early on that "food is good!" Even though he was a beanpole, he could eat his meal and everyone else's sitting at the table. Not sure where the food went, but it must have been his feet! Jordan had expensive taste in food! He would order a surf and turf and eat the whole thing. He loved his gourmet fries and would go to town on crab legs! Not only could he eat...Jordan could cook! He started small, making eggs for breakfast, and worked his way up to preparing pan seared salmon and asparagus, topping the menu off with baking a pound cake.

Jordan's life was cut incredibly too short when measuring years, but he had so much life in those years, that his kind, compassionate, giving heart will be felt for years to come. He was preceded in death by his grandparents, Verdell White, Odis & Merlene Carr; his "uncle bruh" Corey Davis; aunts, Barbara, Beatrice and Partheania "Polly"; his uncles, James and Lawrence.

Jordan is survived by his mother, Robin White Bowles; father, Kevin L. Carr; siblings, Olivia Carr and Kevin Carr, II; grandparents, Joyce and Frank Davis, Linda J. White and "Papa P" Benjamin Pereyra, Sr.; aunts, Lanelle Jamison, Leanne White; uncles, Bruce Carr, James Jackson, Jr. (Bethany), Walter Jackson-Uncle and Godfather, Wayne Jackson, Brian Jamison (Blanca) and Allen White (Malia); his cousin-siblings, Ethan, Morgen, Journey, Yana and Izzy; beloved cousins, Durelle, A.J., Amira, Salim, Isaac and Elijah; godparents, Kimberley Bedwell, Martey and Darrell Boothe; great great uncle, Rev. Dr. Andrew J. White, Sr. (Gracie); great great aunts, Gladys S. Jordan, Roberta White; great uncles, John I. Robinson, Sr., and Clarence Bey; great aunts, Leona Estelle Buford, Margaret Winbush, Linda Medley, and Gayle Carter; his "bestays", London and Mariah; his "tribe", Ally, Ashley, Harley, Christian, Jadie, and Makayla; along with a host of honorary aunties and uncles, cousins and friends, especially his "Jordanisms" Fandom.

A celebration of life will be held 12noon, Saturday, July 22, 2023, at the W.T. Robinson/Sture G. Olsson Civic Auditorium and Fine Arts Center, 1040 Thompson Ave, West Point, VA 23181. “ Dear Robin and family, your beloved Jordan has gained his heavenly wings. His soul has entered heaven’s gates. A life short-lived on earth, he fulfilled his “dash.” The period between birth & death. Although you held him in your arms for a little while, he remains in your hearts forever. I observed and witnessed Jordan as smart, very friendly, kindhearted, fun-loving, and creative. Family, I offer sincere condolences, lifting you in prayer as you celebrate Master Jordan Miles Carr eternal life.
RIP & Creativity Jordan!
Prayerfully and Sincerely submitted...

“ I think anyone who has met Jordan knows that any time spent with him can leave a lasting impact, a smile on your face, and/or a touch more sass than you had going into the encounter. He was bright. He was witty. He was protective. He was compassionate. He had so much character. I always loved hearing about his thoughts and feelings, and how he would find points of connection with characters in shows and movies that he loved. (He’s the reason I watched Encanto and Wanda Vision.) Jordan was a deep thinker, and his mind was beautiful and creative.

There are moments and mental images that I do, and will continue to cherish fondly—sitting on the floor playing Harry Potter Uno, Jordan pulling toys and recent creations from his backpack to share with me, the animated tone and hand gestures he would use when sharing a story, or him laughing at a thought he was having before he could share what the thought was (and having to take several moments to compose himself before filling me in on the joke). I have fond memories of him sharing the songs/music that he was enjoying at the time, only to then warn me that some of the songs might be “inappropriate” (as if my adult self couldn’t handle it); we shared more than one laugh over that. His smile, laugh, and general personality lit up a room. Jordan could be very blunt, direct, and expressive when he wanted to be...something we both had in common (so I loved witnessing it). Jordan had a strong, incredible presence. He had a voice that was all his own. I loved hearing him use it in our conversations, and I loved watching him build the confidence to utilize it in the world at large. I will forever be proud of him.

Although my time with Jordan was brief, and his time on this earth was brief, he has and will continue to impact the lives of others. The way he loved others fiercely, his strong will, his art, his energy, his light...Jordan has left imprints on the hearts and lives of those who had the joy of knowing him, myself included. I miss Jordan dearly. I think of him often. And while I don’t expect that to change, I do expect my life to be forever changed by our lives having intersected.

Jordan is, and will forever be, a superstar.

“ As an artist myself, I was amazed with the artwork that Jordan would turn out. No matter what media, it was always out of the box yet so brilliantly creative that it had to be praised. His mild mannerisms did not come out in his work, only The bold and the beautiful. Expectations for him was the sky as a limit. I know he will be in Heaven as a creative director. I will certainly miss his sweet little face and gentle nature as the most colorful and creative young one in my life. “ To My Friend Robin and The Family and Friends of Jordan Miles Carr,
Lord, we know that You are the God who comforts. I pray that You provide a time of comfort, peace, and rest for those whose hearts are hurting right now. Hold them in Your embrace, Father. Wrap them in Your love and remind them that though they may have lost someone dear, they are not alone, for You are with them. Bring to them the hope of Your unfailing love. I offer this prayer for healing their hearts as they learn to navigate life without their loved ones. Let them find serenity in You, knowing their loved one is at peace in Your arms. I pray they take comfort in knowing that their loved one is already in a better place. In Your most Holy name, I pray. Amen.

“ Though I did not have the blessing of knowing Jordan personally, I can feel the warmth of the light he shared with everyone that knows and loves him. His compassionate smile, this beautiful tribute and the way in which he captured his godmother's heart are all evidence that he is a gift from above. It's impossible to make sense of life moving forward without him in it, but imagine if you can all the new "bestays" he is making and how completely uninhibited his creativity and empathy can now flow. My heart goes out to all that know, love and are missing Jordan. I wish you peace and comfort.
