“ I learned so much from this man. He was a great teacher of the Gospel. He lived what he preached and he will be missed by many as he was loved by many. He will live on in our hearts but he is in the place he always longed to be. I'm proud to call him cousin.

“ I’m so thankful to have sat under him as my Pastor many years ago. He not only taught how to love, he lived how to love as Christ. Brother Marshall and Sister Marshall were the examples of what being a husband and wife really meant. Through thick and thin, hard times and rough times, sticking together for better or worse. That love was instilled within the family and friends. My prayer for everyone that his life touched is that the example of this love carries on. Thank you Brother Marshall for being the man you were called to be and helping me in my early years of learning what the Bible was. Not just a book to read, but a book to live that changed me.
