“ I came to visit West Point with my Dad, Don Torbert, Aunt Patsys brother one summer when I was in High school. I stood inside the house at Grandmas talking through the screen door. Patsy, my dad and my Grandma laugh and giggled because I didn't want to smell that smell in West Point! All three of them chimed in together (as I'm sure they are now) and said “Sara that is the smell of money”😂 I feel certain they in each other's arms and happy to be together again❤️

“ Patsy .. YOU were a strong Warrior as you fought as hard as you could and the memories you are leaving behind are of great importance showing just how kind, loving , and respectful you were of all of your surroundings. Lacy and I will surely miss talking with you .. even though we didn't call regularly I am sure you knew how much we cared about you ! Heaven has another ANGEL so spread your wings and fly My Friend !
