Jacob Crade, friend, and rock climbing buddy: Michael was was a man with a huge load on his shoulders but at the same time was a man of integrity. He was genuine, generous, funny, and showed a true kindness and real caring at the core of his being. I wish him true love and eternal peace. I can't put into words the rest, so I won't. God bless, Micheal.

Jacob, thank you for your kind words. You did capture the essence of Michael. So many years have passed and I can't believe I had not read your post about him. Thank you. 5/23/26 Mother the boys. You will be in our prayers in the many days ahead. God

“ The night before I got married, my mom, maid of honor, and myself stayed in a room at the hotel we had booked for our out of town guests. We had already had a few drinks when there was a soft knock on the door. It was Michael, my cute young cousin. He had come to drop of a special little wedding gift he had got for me. We invited him inside, and he stayed up late with us ladies laughing and swapping stories. I remember thinking how sweet it was that he was there since I really hadn't seen him since we had all gone on the cruise. He was a very welcome surprise and really made the night before my wedding a special memory... I'm crying as I write this remembering that night. He was so sweet, I wish we could have spent more time together. The next day at the wedding, lol, I had to chase a bunch of my friends off who were asking about my "hot" young cousin. "He's too young for you!" Lol. ~sniffff~ My love and thoughts go out to him and the family. Such a sad sad loss.
