“ I was 7 when Pete was born. He was born at home. I was outside with my two younger sisters Janet and Judy when a loud plane flew over. A little later we went inside and mom was holding a baby. I said where did that baby come from and dad said the plane dropped him off. One look and I fell in love with that little baby and it hasn't changed in all these years. I'm going to miss his voice saying love you Sis. I'm going to miss all the help he gave me over the years. Pete was very generous and would help anyone who needed help. Pete, you left us too soon and if there is a heaven I know you are there. Miss you baby brother.
