“ When I found my dream home I also found a man , mr Ralph who inspired me in a way that still today I look at this beautiful maple tree growing in the middle of this green meadow pasture and give thanks to mr Ralph. At his age till the end of his illness he would mow once a week to keep it looking beautiful. A wave or nodding as we greeted. One day as I could tell he was loosing weight I walked over and offered to help , but mr Ralph is a proud hard working man dedicated to finish the job himself. He said that my working all the time is something he noticed and wish's he had the energy he use to. I miss my new found freind because I felt a connection of a mentor that I'll never get to have. But as I look over the meadow next to my house I see the maple tree and there I see Ralph's passion. Thank you for a memorable thought mr ralph.
