“ I have many fond memories of Bob. Bob hired me at USF&G in 1971 as an underwriter. I remember the day and the interview clearly. It was in the late afternoon after closing so we were the only ones there. I was completing the application and there was a question that asked how much you wanted to be paid. It read: salary expected? I decided to test his sense of humor realizing he may not find it funny, I answered “yes”. He took the app to his office and a few minutes later, I heard a loud and long laugh. That was the beginning of a long and wonderful friendship. He reminded me of it many times and we always shared a laugh with whoever was present. He was a very important part of my career in the insurance industry. He gave me an appointment when I started my agency. I don't see how it could have worked if he hadn't. I will be forever grateful. Rest In Peace, Bob.
