“ It's been one year to the day. I have relived every moment we spent together that last night. There is a hollowness, emptiness in my heart. Scar tissue that won't heal. Did you know that the "only scars in heaven are on the hands holding onto you". Rest my favorite number one son. I love you

“ Hi diddy! I miss you everyday! I just want you too know no matter your past you'll always be my daddy. And I'll always be daddy's little bunny. Your death has taught me too love and treat everyone who comes in and out my life with as much respect as possible because no one is promised tomorrow. I thought you'd be walking me down the aisle and holding your grand babies and watching me grow into a strong beautiful woman. But you are from above. I love you! Rest easy diddy ! 🙏

Remember when me, you, and Chip would get bored and play golf. Neither one of us could hit the ball but it wasn't for a lack of us trying! Or driving the cart the wrong way down the cart path and the manager chasing us! Good times, great memories! My butt still hurts from falling out of the cart! Lol

“ By Beautiful Brother, although losing you is one of the most painful memories of my life, there are so many wonderful memories we shared over the last 41 years we were together and I will continue to share my secrets with you as I go on.

You are my best friend and a light that brightens my soul. We shared so many secrets, however, it was never a secret how much I love you and I desperately hope you know that. I use present tense because I know in my heart you are still with me. I look forward to the day we are all reunited and can look back and laugh at all the crazy things we did and the adventures we had. You are forever in my heart and that will never change!

Til we meet again baby bro, your Sissy, Karen<3

“ Dear Son, Ever since you were born, I worried and wondered about whether or not I was being the best mother I could be. Did I make you feel important? Did we find enough time for the little things - like laughter, and hugs, and "just-between-us" moments? And, even when we disagreed, did you always know I loved you? Of all the things I've done in my life, one thing I'd never change is having you for a son. If I didn't always say it, I hope I always showed it - I'm proud to be your mother, and I love you with all my heart Robby.

My sweet Robby I will cherish your big Bear Hugs that you gave me everytime we were together. I will miss your smile, laugh and big heart. I know Alice is hugging you in heaven as in Papa John. More important I will find my comfort knowing you are in the arms of Jesus. My heart is so broken. Love you so much!!!! Aunt Wendy and Uncle Joe
