“ I have so many childhood memories would love to share but there are too many, one that i Love is we riding our bikes and we collect coke and pepsi bottles and took to the fire station and cashed in and the fire state had a candy store and we of course bought the candy and set on the curb and split the candy up and just set and eat the candy and talked of all about what we were going to play next, we were about 8 and 10 years old. RIP my sister.
