

Roseanna "Chris" Ellingwood

May 13, 1952 - August 23, 2024

Roseanna "Chris" Ellingwood, 72, of Hartford City, Indiana passed away suddenly during a visit with close family.

Chris was a retired special needs teacher born to Richard Kinser and Clara Mae Grissel and raised by mother Delilah Joanne Kinser and Richard. She loved her family and especially enjoyed reading and spending time with her grandchildren, Charlie and Brynley. Chris was a caring soul who always put others first and will be greatly missed by family and friends. The impact on those who loved her is profound.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Charles Keller, father Richard Kinser, mother, Clara Mae Grissel, mother, Delilah Joanne Kinser, as well as brothers Michael Kellogg and Danny Kinser.

Chris happily remarried and is survived by her husband, Jeffrey Ellingwood, whom she loved dearly; a son, Aaron Keller and his wife Darcie; and two adored grandchildren, Brynley and Charlie; siblings, Sandy Bell, David Kinser, Amie Atkinson, Jane Malkoff and sisters-in-law Debbie Peckinpaugh, and Toni Ortega as well as many nieces and nephews on all sides of the family.

A celebration of life is planned at the Eaton Indiana Community Center, Saturday August 31 from 1pm - 4pm where friends and family will be able to discuss memories of her sweet and caring nature.
