I know she is taking heaven all in, not wanted to miss a thing and smiling from ear to ear. She was beautiful inside and out and what a wonderful sense of humor. Rest in peace sweet Sarah. “ I remember spending weekends with uncle Butsy and Aunt Joy. Your 2yr old self would wake me up in the morning by pouncing on me and then putting my face in your hands ..waking up to those big beautiful eyes meeting mine. What a precious child.. Precious heart. What a prankster. Lol. You kept us laughing. Poothead. Lol.

No one could have imagined God would have taken you now... at this time, it hurts me and many of us deeply that you are not here. However I'm sure you danced with glory once you saw the Masters face.

Father God send the comforter to be with all of us who are grieving for the loss of your child.

In Jesus name, amen

Sarah..... look for us, He is coming soon!

I love you always and through eternity baby girl

“ Time flies by so quickly, it doesn't seem so long ago we were all kids growing up in and around West Point. When we moved to Tappahannock, sis and I were always so happy to come back with mom and dad to West Point on Sundays so we could play with you, Joshy, Daniel, April, & Bo; some of my best memories of you come from these times. I remember how you loved to listen to the Beach Boys, play your "Dream Date" board game, and how we had Bible studies/school from time to time with Uncle Butsy (back when we all lived on Bagby Street). I also have great memories of gathering on Christmas Eve in Toano (and eventually mom and dad's) every year, and summer time family reunions. As the years passed by, it seems like we all went in different directions but you are and forever will be family. I'm sure you are now where we all are trying to get to, and that you have been reunited with Nannie, Pop, Uncle Kenny, Uncle Marvin, and other family, friends, and loved ones, but most importantly with Jesus.

Love you.

“ I can't describe words for the loss of Sara to Calvin & Joy and her children and husband. May God be with you all during this time. Such a young life gone too soon but God has our destiny in his hands. Please find comfort in knowing she is in God's hands and with GMA Bibby and GPA Lawson. God be with all of you <3
