“ My memories of my dad go back quite a number of years, in sharing with everyone who reads this, know that he had a wonderful heart. In all difficulties of life, he could find comfort in all who have cared, gave their time and love to him. He came to such joy when around babies and puppy dogs. So in our moments of loss remember our love for one another, and share that love. To all my siblings, a special bond that has been given to us by our parents who made it possible to be here now! I do so much love you all. Peggy
