“ I only recently learned of Roy’s passing, but wanted to add my condolences to his family. I visited CW frequently in the 80s and 90s and always felt as though I was going home as I shared time with Roy, Neal and Robert. Oh, the laughter we shared! Roy managed to coerce me into timing visits for his birthday (party time!) and later during Christmas and I never regretted one trip... until he retired. He was one of those people you could pick up a conversation with as if you’d just seen one another - even though it had been a year. RIP, dear friend. You’ll always be in my heart.

“ Dear Black family, I worked at CW for a few years in the 1980's. I always enjoyed stopping for a visit with Roy and Neil. I heard about y'all often in those days. I loved the twinkle in his eye. You knew something good was coming soon to be followed by a laugh. He was so loving and thoughtful as you all know. He made my oldest daughter a Easter basket to celebrate her birth. We visited frequently after we left Williamsburg. He was one of our first and last stops. How did he remembered all the people he knew? I always marveled! We missed him when he retired, but my, he earned it. I read these tributes to him. They are all a reflection of the warm, loving and giving man that he was. Thank you for sharing him with us. Know how much he loved you! Can you imagine all of the souls waiting to greet him upon his arrival? There must of been a party! I am sure he greeted each one with that wonderful smile.

“ Bert and Children;

We are deeply saddened to learn of Roy's homegoing. Great husband, father, brother and friend to all, full of humor and laughter always. A devoted member of our beloved Parish Hill Baptist Church in Charles City, VA. Seems like since relocating over 35 years ago, I cannot recall a single time (numerous over the years) when we returned to Parish Hill that Roy did not greet us with his smile, a joke or his knack for making us feel really special. We really really liked Roy!

Bert, while I know you (and your children) are heart broken, as hard as it may seem, give God thanks and praise for giving you all such a special husband and father for so many years. I don't know how or when but, I assure all of you God will replace your tears and hurt with many many moments of joyful memories of the wonderful man that he allowed you all to have for so many years.

“ When I began interpreting at the Peyton Randolph House in 1998, one of the first people I met was Roy. He was helpful in showing me the importance African Virginians had in trades and skills that Blacks had made in building the infrastructure of not only Virginia but the entire United States. I enjoyed the conversations we had whether it was history or our lives in Charles City. My thoughts and prayers go to his family and friends. Hope the fond memories of Roy can sustain everybody at this difficult time. Edwin Cooke III.

“ What a privilege it was to work with Roy. I will always remember his good nature and patient ways. Roy was loved by so many folks--he always had a smile and a good word for everyone. A great sense of humor! Not a day would go by without one of his "fans" stopping by to catch up. He was kind to all--always helpful and willing to share his knowledge. Roy was an awesome craftsmen, the best teacher and a wonderful friend. Roy you are now at ease with your well earned peace --you will be missed. God's Blessing to the Black family.
